My Poor Back!

That "poor back" is held responsible for more than its share of the sufferings of mankind. If your dog bites a man who kicked it, do you blame the dog? On the same principle the kidneys [illegible] against nervousness, impure blood, and resulting consequences. These force them to do extraordinary work in ridding the system of the poisons which are the result of effete matter retained in the blood. Then the sufferer says the back aches; the kidneys are diseased. "Not yet," but they will be unless the nervous system is strengthened, the blood purified, and the consequences removed. These are the causes of kidney troubles, and Paine's Celery Compound removes them quickly. With its tonic, purifying, and laxative effect, it also strengthens the weak kidneys, making it almost infallible in curing all diseases of the nerves and kidneys. If your hopes of cure have not been realized, try Paine's Celery Compound, it gives perfect health to all who complain of "the poor back." [illegible]

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

A few days ago, it was stated that Auburn would soon lose the Maine Central railroad repair shops. It is now certain, as the company has ordered the shops closed after December 1st. A part of the machinery will be moved to Waterville and a part to the repair shops of the Western division, just outside of Portland. Several of the mechanics who have been employed in the shops at Auburn will move to Portland, and will be added to the force at the repair shops there.

Cumberland.

A colored man, named Chambers is under arrest for alleged sale of a horse, at Brunswick, which he hired from Mansfield's stable in Portland. Deputy Sheriff Duguay is hunting for the horse.

Annie Webber, of Cumberland Mills, a graduate of the Westbrook High School of [illegible], was taken to Augusta, Monday, for treatment, having become insane. The young lady's mother is a sister to [illegible], Mr W W Thomas. Her father Dr. [illegible] Webber, is an old soldier, formerly a member of Company [illegible] Thirteenth Maine Regiment.

Mr George Hammond and wife, of Yarmouthville, were in South Paris, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, procuring Oxford county minerals to be used in building a grand mineralogical fireplace in the construction of which a large variety of Maine minerals are to be used. Its proportions are to be suited for the reception of wood four feet in length.

The new Public Library building in Portland, which Mr James P. Baxter has given to the city, built at a cost of about a hundred thousand dollars, was turned over to the Directors by the contractors, Monday. It is a fine structure and is to be occupied by the city and Maine Historical Society for their several collections. The building will no doubt be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies before being used by the public.

Kennebec.

Last Sunday noon the granite shaft belonging to the Wentworth monument was started from Hallowell for Chicago. Mr Joseph Varney, connected with the Hallowell Granite Works, will accompany it all the way. Messrs Hunt and Getchell went as far as Gardiner so as to judge somewhat of the way in which the block of granite, fifty two feet in length and sixty tons in weight, would ride. We are told that this is the largest piece of granite ever sent by the Hallowell company.

The eighty two horse power boiler to be used in heating the pulp mill and Hanges Bros. establishment arrived at Augusta, Monday. A portion of the side of the Della Collins had to be removed in loading the boiler at Gardiner and another portion was damaged in unloading it at Augusta. Then arose a new difficulty. The boiler was so heavy that the city authorities dare not allow it to be hauled across the bridge. As a result it had to be hauled on a freight car and taken across the river over the railroad bridge.

Edwin Dudley, an aged citizen residing in Mt. Vernon, near the [illegible] line, died, last week. He had lived in a small shanty of a house and had been in such apparently straightened circumstances that his sons had frequently aided him and it was even said that he had suffered from want of food. Just before he died he called his children to him and addressed them as follows: "For many years I lived alone with my father. Who or what he was I do not know, though he kept a small country store where by the sale of liquor, he could earn a comfortable living. He neglected his business and was frequently absent, often for days at a time. From these expeditions he brought home money, watches and a variety of beautiful trinkets which he showed only to me. When he died, in 18[illegible], I found hidden in an old stocking, $1[illegible] in gold. What to do with it I did not know. Not daring to use it and fearful that I might be robbed, I buried it four feet deep beneath the corner of the old barn which stood alone in the pasture." The old barn was torn down many years ago and the field has been plowed over several times. The treasure has not yet been found, though the sons, firmly believing the dying words of their father, have dug over many a square rod in searching, and are still hopefully wielding the spade.

Lincoln.

Thomas B. Hague, of Boothbay, was nearly drowned the other day in South-bay Harbor, by the capsizing of a sailboat which he was engineering. He was unable to swim, and was under water and nearly exhausted when help reached him.

Eli Kane, of Dresden Mills, sat down on a bed, Monday, put the muzzle of a shotgun at his head and discharged it, blowing the top of his head off. He was about thirty years of age.

Sagadahoc.

The Bath Times says Mrs. Charles H. Mitchell, of Bath, who was injured at the [illegible] railroad station, September 15th last, has put her case into the hands of [illegible] attorneys to recover damages from the railroad. Mrs. Mitchell stepped from the platform to the ground and broke her ankle, the place being dark and there being no railing.

Daniel F. Allen, of Topsham, who was injured at a railroad crossing in Bath, August 22, 1888, has sued the Maine Central Railroad for $[illegible]. He claims to have been seriously hurt on his head and right side, [illegible]

A meeting of Waldo county horsemen was held at the Court House, Belfast, Saturday, and a committee appointed to solicit members for the proposed Horse Breeders' Association. When a sufficient number are secured an organization will be effected. The initiation fee has been fixed at [illegible] and yearly dues at [illegible]. The money thus raised is to be used in repairing the track, building stalls, etc. Premiums are to be offered each year for the best horses exhibited on the [illegible], all of which is expected for the improvement of Waldo county horses.

A. H. Gurney, the West Buxton [illegible], who lost about $[illegible] worth of goods [illegible] a small part of the stolen goods. It was found in possession of the burglar who was arrested in Gorham.

The Coburn Estate.

Since the death of the two brothers Abner and Philander Coburn, of Skowhegan, their property, most of which is held in common by the two, has been managed by the executors, but will be turned over to the heirs at no distant day. These have decided after careful consideration and the taking of legal advice, to operate the whole estate of both the brothers as a whole, which at their death included [illegible] acres of valuable timber land in Maine, large tracts in Wisconsin, Michigan, Alabama, Washington Territory, and [illegible] acres of wheat lands in Dakota.

Besides the above, there is valuable real estate property at Nantucket Beach, Massachusetts, and other parts of that State. The whole will amount to upwards of $[illegible]. It is proposed to form a trust [illegible] with able business men at the head of it. The heirs have retained Hon. Orville D. Baker, of Augusta, as counsel, and he has already entered upon the work in which he will be obliged to make several trips West, and give much of his attention for some time to come. There are eleven branches of the heirs, the most numerous being the Mortons and the [illegible]. There are so many heirs [illegible] would be $[illegible].

Kingman Letter.

[Regular Correspondence [illegible]]

That dreadful disease diphtheria is again becoming prevalent in this section of the State. There are cases in Prentiss, Danforth, Wytopitlock, Sherman, [illegible] and other places. Station Agent Rand's little boy was very ill with it last week, at Wytopitlock, but is now convalescent. Mr F. J. Tracy, of [illegible], the lumber king of the [illegible], lost a little son with the disease a short time ago. The little fellow had been with his father visiting friends in St. Stephen, N. B., and on his return contracted the malady and soon died. Parents should keep their houses well ventilated and use disinfectants liberally, if there is any doubt about the sanitary condition of the cellar etc., in order to prevent the disease from gaining a foothold in their family. A little effort in this way may have the effect of keeping much gloom out of the household. The Board of Health in every town should look after these matters as they deeply concern the whole community whom they are supposed to represent.

Dr J C [illegible], dental surgeon of Bangor, is making his monthly visit at Kingman. He was formerly a student in the office of Dr. Keene and like his preceptor is giving good satisfaction.

The engine on which Daniel Walker was killed on the Canadian Pacific Railway, last week, passed through here last Tuesday, on Conductor Hammond's train which took it to the repair shops at McAdam. The locomotive was badly damaged and still besmeared with the blood of the unfortunate man.

Mrs. Adda Weston, of Macwahoc, is in town pursuing her vocation of dress-making for a limited time.

Eclipse of the Sun.

IMPORTANCE OF THE TOTAL OBSCURATION THAT WILL OCCUR JANUARY 1

Mr Garrett P. Serviss, the secretary of the American Astronomical Society, and well known lecturer and writer on astronomy, was asked what there was peculiar and interesting in the eclipse of the sun which is to occur on the 1st of January next, and for the observation of which Harvard University has already fitted out a costly expedition to go to the Pacific coast.

"The path of the total eclipse, as it is technically called," said Mr Serviss, "will begin near the centre of the group of the Aleutian islands, which stretch across from Alaska to Kamschatka, and, sweeping southward and eastward over the northern Pacific ocean, will reach the continent a little north of San Francisco. It will continue on in a broad curve turning northward, and crossing Nevada, Idaho and Montana, will end far up in Canada, about half-way between the western end of Lake Superior and Hudson Bay. While only observers along this line will see the sun totally eclipsed, a partial eclipse will be seen all over the United States. Here in New York the eclipse will be just beginning at sunset. The farther west you go the better chance you will have to see it.

"One reason why this eclipse possesses special interest is that since the last previous total eclipse that could be observed [illegible]

"On this occasion [illegible]

[illegible] been solved. Some have regarded them as consisting of gaseous matter surrounding the sun, and being perhaps thrown off from it. Others have thought that there might be vast swarms of meteors crowding thick about the sun [illegible] all.

"It is hoped that a good deal of light will be thrown upon the question by the observations of the coming eclipse. [illegible]

Agricultural and Household Matters

[illegible]

At the [illegible] last week of the [illegible] cooking school some recipes were given that will be useful in [illegible] week's Thanksgiving preparations.

"A [illegible] should [illegible] be very carefully [illegible] and freed from pin feathers. [illegible]

One pint of oysters parboiled until the edges curl and then drained. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add to it two tablespoonfuls of flour, and then pour on it very slowly one cup of chicken stock. Now add the liquid saved."

A plum pudding can be prepared in advance of the day it is needed and will also keep a long time. The recipe given by Miss Maynard contains brandy, which, she said, might be omitted, but the pudding would not keep as long, as a substitute [illegible]

[illegible] and of sugar [illegible]

STATE OF MAINE

By the Governor. A Proclamation.

[illegible]

[illegible] SEBASTIAN S. MARBLE. [illegible]

[illegible] returns from all the counties [illegible] West Virginia show the election [illegible] published a [illegible] ticket for [illegible] votes.

[illegible] the Mobile Register [illegible] that the south carried [illegible] rather too high a hand in the matter of tariff reform, and regrets that the speaker packed the Ways and Means committee with six southern men of the eight Democratic members.

[illegible] less than four ex-speakers in the [illegible] of the next House, [illegible] the Republicans [illegible] that [illegible] Randall, John [illegible] General Banks and [illegible] Cox who [illegible] pro tem. of the 48th Congress during the long illness of Speaker Kerr.

[illegible] the suggestion that the Democrats ever had any idea of getting to [illegible] of their [illegible] work to secure, if possible, control of the next House remains one of the [illegible] to which [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] during the [illegible] campaign.

[illegible] and only three Republicans to the [illegible] — [illegible] Democratic gerrymander of the Congressional districts. The Republicans had a majority [illegible] but by reason of the [illegible] manipulation of the districts the Democrats secure a majority of the Congressmen.

[illegible] the Governor of West Virginia [illegible] found that he has the most votes [illegible] otherwise the other fellow will be [illegible] to [illegible] well understood that before the [illegible] more wildly excited.—[illegible]

It is not a question of getting the most votes, as that was settled by the Republicans at the polls, but a question of getting an honest count. This is what Gen. Goff is [illegible] for and he will have the [illegible] of the Republicans all over [illegible] in his efforts to see that the will of the people is respected.

[illegible] warning against the deadly car [illegible] was given in the burning of a Pullman [illegible] car in Pennsylvania the [illegible] and almost simultaneously [illegible] the news that one of the important [illegible] railroads has adopted a system of heating [illegible] steam from the engine. [illegible] encouraging news also in the action of various Legislatures requiring the [illegible] to be abolished. It will take some [illegible] to make this reform complete, but the progress that is being made is full of encouragement.

The New York World is trying to find out whether [illegible] is alive or bur[illegible]. Judging from the tone of numerous Southern journals we should say that it is very much alive. These [illegible] editors seem to think that Gen. Harrison should keep awake nights to formulate what they call his "southern policy," just as though the South was entitled to some peculiar consideration on the part of the incoming Administration. Our impression is that the southern brethren will have to content themselves with a National policy rather than a sectional one.

The Boston Journal says: "Our surmise that Secretary Whitney had probably learned a thing or two during his term of office about the relative merits of American and English marine architects proves correct. An Administration organ announces that 'in view of blunders that have lately been discovered in the plans of the Texas and the objection raised by naval officers and other experts to all the foreign plans submitted, the Secretary has concluded to trust to American ingenuity to produce acceptable designs.'" It took Mr. Whitney three years and a half to learn this simple lesson, but he has learned it well.

The Philadelphia Press has the following bit of [illegible]: "The Democratic Charleston News and Courier says that Cleveland was defeated because 'there was too much South in the election.' It confesses that the sight of a President, largely elected by ex-Confederate votes, wearing [illegible] and of a Ways and Means Committee, dominated by Southern free traders, framing a [illegible] bill that would result disastrously to Northern interests' gave an appearance that the South was in the saddle." Why, bless your heart, Mr. News and Courier, the Press told you six months ago that the solid South and Cleveland's [illegible] upon which you were relying, would prove to be only [illegible]. It is encouraging to know, however, that you have discovered the fact even so late as this. And in the light of past failures it is to be hoped that there will be no further attempt to make one [illegible].

The Chief Cause.

(Duluth, (Minn.) Tribune.)

Since the election Democratic newspapers have been busily engaged in discussing the chief cause or causes which led to the defeat of the Democratic ticket. These speculations were not altogether useless. Men may gather wisdom by experience. An examination of the causes which brought about the defeat of the Democracy and which secured for the Republican party a restoration to power, is not only a natural inquiry but it is one which may be profitably pursued by politicians of both parties.

One Democrat says the blame for defeat rests upon Governor Hill, who "knifed" Mr. Cleveland; another explains that it was Hewitt, who traded him off; still another thinks the Tammany Democrats were so bent on municipal spoils that they deliberately rent the party in twain.

One theory is that the President, though right on the tariff question, sprung this issue too soon, while another notion is that it was sprung too late.

These are Democratic opinions and theories.

The Republicans have but one theory. That is one over which there is virtually no dispute among Republicans.

This theory is that Mr. Cleveland and the Democratic party were radically wrong on the tariff. Especially wrong in advocating free raw materials.

Free wool and free ores plainly caused the defeat of the Democratic party.

Some weeks prior to the election certain Democratic newspapers claimed that Texas was first in the rank of the wool growing States, and one paper published in Duluth made the extravagant claim that Texas produced more wool than all the Northern States combined.

The Tribune promptly controverted that claim but had not at hand the exact figures to show the relative rank of the wool growing States.

A table compiled from returns made to the agricultural bureau at Washington, and which for some mysterious reason was not published before the election, has now been printed.

According to the statistics comprised in this tabulated statement the principal wool growing States and territories take rank in the following order: California, Texas, Ohio, New Mexico, Oregon, Michigan, New York, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Colorado, Kentucky, Illinois, Kansas, Wisconsin, Maine, Nevada, West Virginia, Nebraska, Vermont, etc.

Here are nineteen States and one Territory which produced 96,000,000 of pounds of wool during the year 1887, 116,000,000 being the total wool clip of all the States and Territories—20,000,000 pounds in round figures, more than the States named.

The eighteen States named in this list cast 243 electoral votes, 160 of them being cast for Harrison and 83 for Cleveland.

Of the total wool clip of all the States and Territories—116,000,000 pounds—the Territories produced, in round numbers, 19,000,000 pounds, leaving the product of all the States at 97,000,000 pounds. Of this 97,000,000 pounds the States voting for Harrison produced 72,000,000 pounds, against 25,000,000 produced by the States voting for Cleveland.

The total product of all the States voting for Cleveland, except Texas, was only 13,[illegible], or 5,000,000 less than was produced by the Territories.

California, alone, produced 1,000,000 of pounds more wool than Texas, which is the largest of the Democratic wool growing States. California also produced 1,000,000 pounds more than all the other States except Texas, which cast their votes for Cleveland, while Michigan and Ohio each produced as much as was clipped in States which gave Cleveland 140 of his 168 electoral votes.

California and Ohio produced more than all the States voting for Cleveland, including Texas, New Jersey and Connecticut!

The Oregon wool clip was greater than the clip of all the following Democratic States: Maryland, Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Delaware, New Jersey and Connecticut, and yet it was less than two-thirds that of Ohio.

Even the little State of Nevada produced more wool in 1887 than all the States of Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, South Carolina, Florida, Louisiana and Arkansas!

Again: why was it that the territory of Washington, which went Democratic in 1886 by 1,000 majority, elected the Republican candidate for delegate to Congress by nearly 8,000 majority? Why was it that Montana, another territory which has been strongly Democratic for sixteen years, this year elected a Republican delegate by a majority of nearly 5,000?

The answer is partly contained in the figures on the wool clip, and wholly contained in the figures showing both the wool and ore product of these Territories?

Montana produced more wool than Connecticut, New Jersey, Delaware, Alabama and Mississippi combined!

Washington produced more wool than Maryland, South Carolina, Alabama and Louisiana combined!

What is true of all the Republican States and Territories as to wool is also true as to their mineral products. The ores of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Colorado, Nevada, California and Oregon, and, in a lesser degree, of all the States now ranged in the Republican column ought to have insured their vote for General Harrison, had there been no other issue than that of tariff on ores alone.

The more carefully one scans the statistics of so-called raw materials, particularly of wool and ore, produced by all the States of the Union, the more certain one is to figure out certain political death to the man or party which proposes to put these raw materials on the free list.

Mr. Cleveland's "free raw materials" heresy would have proved his certain overthrow at any time, whether promulgated early or late. "Time was not of essence," as the legal term goes.

THE FRIGID SNAP.

Coldest November Day for Twenty Years.

Three Feet of Snow at Sault Ste Marie.

MONTREAL, Nov 21. Yesterday was the coldest November day in this part of Canada for nearly twenty years and the thermometer continued to drop slowly until this morning when it touched eight below zero. It is believed that many vessels will be caught in the ice.

The steamer Pomerania caught fire last night, and by the time the flames were extinguished she was a mass of ice, caused by the water thrown on her. She will probably not leave here until spring.

From Quebec worse reports come. A northwest gale with a blinding snow storm has been prevailing since Sunday and it is feared that several vessels known to have started for the Saguenay and the mouth of the gulf have met with disaster. Both shores of the gulf are icebound for some distance and fishermen caught in the snow storm are badly frozen and suffering from hunger.

At Sault Ste Marie, three feet of snow has fallen in the past three days and last night the thermometer was 5 below zero. The farming stock in Ontario and Quebec is suffering severely from the unexpected cold snap, farmers not having made any provision for it so early in the month.

FROM WASHINGTON.

News About the Capital.

For a Cruise Around the World

WASHINGTON, Nov 21. It is stated at the Navy Department that United States steamship Atlanta, now preparing for sea at New York will be sent for a cruise around the world by the way of the Pacific. The cruise will probably last three or four years.

Mrs Sheridan Gone to Canada

Mrs Gen Sheridan, accompanied by Col Sheridan, left Washington this afternoon for Canada by the way of New York for the purpose of securing a copyright on the memoirs of her husband, to be published in London. New York, when her New York publishers will issue the American edition.

The House Appropriations Committee

The members of the Appropriations Committee held their first meeting to-day preliminary to the assembling of the 50th Congress in its second session. Chairman Randall was absent. The Committee had before them the treasury estimates for the District of Columbia and the appropriation on sundry civil bills submitted by courtesy in advance of the regular time. The first budget was referred to a special committee. The sub-committee in charge of the fortification bill will probably get at it the first of the week. The full committee will not meet again until one of the bills is ready for report by its sub-committee.

Inter-State Commerce Matters

Chairman Cooley of the Inter-State Commission, [illegible] to-day said that neither the New York Central nor the Pennsylvania Railroad Companies has made to the Commission or any one else to its knowledge, any charge that any secret fund is [illegible] cutting rates or otherwise [illegible] other unlawful practices. Both [illegible] however, that they believe such practices are going on, but under the circumstances there is nothing the Commission can do in the matter.

MAKING NOMINATIONS

Indiana to the Cabinet and the Public Printer

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov 21. The News this evening says: It is the confident belief of the intimate friends of Chairman Huston, of the Republican State Committee, that he will be Indiana's representative in the Cabinet, and they offer many reasons for their hope. The most important, of course is the service he rendered the President-elect. It is claimed that he did more than any other person to secure Gen Harrison's nomination and that no man in Indiana did so much to carry the State for the Republicans at the recent election. Besides it is asserted that Gen. Harrison has indicated a warmer friendship for him than for any other prominent Republican of the State and that he has good reasons for expecting an exalted position with the administration.

The announcement that Capt. William M Meredith of Chicago is likely to be the next Public Printer will be no surprise to those who know him. He was Captain of the Color Company in Gen Harrison's regiment when they were army comrades and their friendship has continued since. When he became a candidate for the position of Public Printer at the time that S. P. Rounds was appointed, Gen. Harrison was then a member of the Senate and strongly supported him. He is popular among [illegible] printers and his strongest support will come from them.

CRIMES AND THEIR CONSEQUENCES

Two Negroes Hung for Murder

WICHITA, Kansas, Nov 21. Jake and Joe Tobler, colored, were executed this morning in the county jail by the federal authorities. The crime for which they were executed was the killing of [illegible] and Gandy Rusk, near the Sac and Fox Agency in August, 1888.

HORRIBLY DISFIGURED

Burned with Vitriol by His Wife

[illegible], Pa, Nov 20. Patrick Durkin, a baggage master, living in this city, had both eyes burned out and his face horribly disfigured last evening by his wife dashing a tumblerful of vitriol in his face at the table. The woman fled from the house, leaving him blind, he plunged and shrieking in agony. She was brought back by a policeman, and when Durkin heard her voice, sightless and suffering as he was he sprang on her, and despite the officer, nearly killed her. She was jailed and Durkin sent to the hospital. She alleges cruel treatment by her husband and his threat to bring another woman into the house to take his wife's place as provocation for the act. Mrs. Durkin is thought to be insane. Durkin will probably die.

TENDERED THE POSITION

Of Private Secretary to General Harrison.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov 21. Gen. Harrison has tendered Elijah W. Halford, manager of the Indianapolis Journal, the position of private secretary. Halford is forty-three years old and came from England when a child with his parents, who settled in Cincinnati. He was a delegate to the late Chicago convention, representing Indiana on the committee on platform.

HELD WHILE HIS FLESH BURNED

Charged with Almost Unparalleled Brutality

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. A case of almost unparalleled brutality was developed in the trial of Thomas Glynn, of No. [illegible] Eighth avenue, before Judge Cowing, in General Sessions, yesterday. The story told by the complainant, John Cruise, a blacksmith in John [illegible]'s shop, at One Hundred and Sixteenth street and First avenue, was on a par with the crime of the brute Reilly, who gouged out his wife's eyes at Rockaway.

On Oct. 15, 1887, Glynn came in the shop and went to the forge to light a cigar [illegible] [illegible] from the coals to do so. "Look out, you'll burn your [illegible]," said Cruise. [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] the bosom of his [illegible] [illegible] Cruise endeavored to tear the burning garment from his body Glynn seized his arms and held them at his side until he fell to the ground, his flesh almost burned to a crisp.

He was taken to Ward's Island Hospital, where for a year past the doctors have been slowly bringing him back to life. The burns were so terrible that new flesh, taken from the bodies of healthy persons of all nationalities, had to be grafted together on the upper part of his body. Cruise is an Irishman by birth, but now might be called a man of all nations. There was a general denial and a claim that the complainant was drunk and his clothes caught fire accidentally from the forge. There is on record [illegible] [illegible] a woman was tried for murder for deliberately setting fire to another person. Assault with intent to kill, is the charge against Glynn. The body of the complainant is now swathed in cotton batting and has been for over a year. He has not been discharged from the hospital, though he can get about.

TRIUMPHS OF LABOR

A Lively Contest in the General Assembly

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind, Nov 21. As the more complete story of the morning session came out late in the afternoon it appeared that there had been a much warmer time and more opposition to Powderly than has appeared on the floor of the general assembly at any time since the convention was called to order. The opponents of the administration mistaking their [illegible] opportunity to make a point, and made the most of it. Mr Barry's charge of [illegible] [illegible] Local Assembly [illegible], of East Saginaw, Mich., was made against [illegible] on whom that charge reflected. Mr [illegible] secured a [illegible] from the Philadelphia office and with this took the floor in his own defence. He claimed that there were but four locals in the district.

Immediately afterward, Cornell, clerk in the head office at Philadelphia, took the floor and stated that he had been ordered to suspend the charter and that there appeared to be but four local assemblies, as has been stated by Mr [illegible]. However on investigation he discovered that there were actually seven and he stated, "I called the attention of the head clerk to this fact, but he gave it no heed."

FOREIGN NEWS.

Heavily Fined for Contempt of Court

LONDON, Nov 21. At the meeting of the Parnell Commission to-day, Mr Reid, counsel for Mr Harrington, stated that Harrington did not choose to adopt the course he had advised in relation to the articles abusing the Commission, which had appeared in Harrington's paper, the Kerry Sentinel, therefore, he (Mr Reid) was not in a position to say anything. Mr Harrington said to the Court that he had no statement to make except that he would accept responsibility for what appeared in his paper. Mr Harrington was therefore fined £500 for contempt of Court.

Mr Gladstone to Return Home

Mr. Gladstone leaves London on Saturday for Hawarden and will not return during the present session of Parliament. The Parnellites are dissatisfied with the manner in which the debate on the Ashbourne extension bill is conducted. They declare that it is not fought with sufficient spirit and tenacity and that the attitude of the Liberal leaders is wanting in hostility. Parnell, responding to the desire of his party, has decided to fight every stage of the bill.

Workmen's Societies Opposed to War

MILAN, Nov 21. Forty six workmen's societies, of Milan, to-day, protested against the triple alliance and against war in general. A resolution was adopted declaring that they would not support the Italian government in the event of war. The workmen of France and Italy will be invited to adhere to the cause of the brotherhood of labor.

A RECIPE FOR SWEEPING CARPETS

I think I hear the reader making fun of the above heading, and exclaiming "The idea of a recipe for sweeping a carpet!" But that is just what I mean to say. If there is an abomination of domestic life it is the hired girl who will not sweep clean. Of the four girls that I have employed in the last twelve years, only one knew how to sweep well. [illegible]

LOCAL MATTERS.

Dr W. E Baxter's office has been connected with the telephone exchange.

The thermometer on Ohio street yesterday morning got down to four degrees above zero.

Mr. Edward Angley and his crew have just finished putting new main-masts into the schooners Abbie E Willard and Mojestic.

Some of those who had exposed water pipes Wednesday night were considerably surprised yesterday morning to find them frozen up tight. The pipes will probably be covered in the future.

A full meeting of all members of the Ladies' Relief Corps will be held at Grand Army Hall this afternoon. Special business will come before the meeting and a full attendance is requested.

The British steamer Annandale which has been receiving a cargo of shooks at High Head in the last few days sailed yesterday for Greenock, Scotland. She takes a large amount and is a staunch steamer.

The trustees of the Insane Hospital have nearly completed the annual inventory of effects belonging to the institution. The total valuation is about $95,000, a considerable gain over last year's estimate.

The cold weather hung on well yesterday and it was very windish through the day. The cold is felt more now than it will be later as there has been hardly time to get hardened to the chilly atmosphere.

It was even colder up river than here Tuesday night. Yesterday morning the thermometer at Greenville indicated four degrees below zero, and at Dover two below. This will do for November weather.

A considerable quantity of grain has been brought to this city in the last few days in small schooners, but no large cargoes have recently arrived. A large amount has arrived here during the season.

A few days ago a caribou came across the field of A. A. Blanchard, in Springfield, within a few feet of the house, crossed the road west of the watering tub and then went south. He was last seen swimming across the new mill pond.

Yesterday forenoon as Mr Charles Copeland of Holden, was driving through Pickering Square, his team collided with a hay rack with such force that he was thrown to the ground, but fortunately sustained no injuries except a few bruises.

A fair will be given by the G. A. R veterans at Corinna in January and so careful preparations will be made the occasion can hardly help being a success in every particular. It was intended to have held the fair this month, but for various reasons it was postponed.

Messrs George and Henry Barbour and Mr George Avery, of Brewer, left yesterday on the steamer Penobscot for Georgetown, Me., where they will be engaged during the winter in work in Capt. S H Barbour's mill. Capt Barbour will leave for that place in about two weeks.

Michael Lansley jumped from the B & P train last evening at the Exchange street station before it stopped and the consequence was that he missed his footing and fell between the platform and the cars. He received some cuts and bruises about the head, knee and foot and narrowly escaped losing his life.

Hon G. W Warren, of Castine and Hon Elliot Wood, of Winthrop, of the Governor's Council, passed through the city yesterday on their way to Augusta. They have been in Aroostook County on business connected with some claims against the State. There will be a regular session of the Executive Council to-day.

Rain fell somewhere in New England every day in October. This is a remarkable record, and it is due to an remarkable a fact, which is that every storm during the month passed across New England or up her coast, so that the region was affected by the low atmospheric conditions which all the storms produced.

A very enjoyable concert is promised at the Central church vestry to-morrow evening, under the auspices of the Willing Workers Society, and a fine programme has been arranged. Mrs Putnam, Miss Lowell, Mr Morton and the Arbuckleian Quartette will take part. There will doubtless be a large attendance.

In the Dominion Supreme Court recently Mr P E Barker made a motion that the appeal of the Canadian Pacific Railroad vs the Western Union Telegraph Company be dismissed on the ground that an order granting an injunction was not appealable. After some discussion the court decided that an order was appealable, and the appeal will be heard.

There will be another shoot at Glenburn on the grounds of Mr Brown next Tuesday, and the prizes will be turkeys and chickens, as on the former shoot about two weeks ago. A number of our crack shots will take part and lay in a supply of birds for Thanksgiving. Those who shot before were very successful and were well repaid for their trip.

Our Winterport correspondent writes: Mrs. A. M Clement, a well known and highly esteemed lady, died at her home Wednesday morning, of consumption. She has been an invalid for some years and for the past few months her suffering has been extreme, but she bore it with Christian patience and fortitude. She leaves three step-daughters, two brothers and a sister to mourn her loss.

By request the drill squad of the Coburn Cadets who won in the competitive drill with the Neal(?) Rifles last week, will give an exhibition drill and ball in Town Hall, Orono, to-morrow evening. Much interest is expressed in the event and there will doubtless be a very large gathering at the hall that evening. The music for the dancing will be furnished by Messrs Tuck, Ushman and Atwood, of this city.

This evening Gen. Armstrong, of the Hampton Institute, the institution for the education of the Indian and negro, will deliver a lecture at the Central church, upon the institution, what it is doing, what it needs, etc. He is accompanied by two Indians and four negroes, who will talk and sing. The lecture is given for the purpose of extending a knowledge of the institution, and there will be no admission fee. It is expected that the occasion will be a very interesting one.

The Penobscot Log Driving Company have abandoned further work on the North Twin dam on the West Branch this fall. For many weeks a crew varying from fifteen to [illegible] men have been engaged there under the charge of W. [illegible] [illegible]. A considerable portion of the old dam, which is some 600 feet in length, has been taken out and the timber to replace it has been hewn out and is now all in readiness. The water [illegible] [illegible]

Detective True, of Hallowell, recently photographed L. Boobier, alias Joseph Williams, and placed the picture in his rogues' gallery. Boobier is 37 years old and has been spent 23 years behind prison bars. Mr True has also just photographed the Glen Mouse diamond robber, F. E Smith, alias Fred E. Wentworth, whom he picked up in the streets of Hallowell.

OPENING YESTERDAY. Mrs E. A. Webster's opening yesterday was a success, the rooms being well filled and many goods changed hands. There are many pretty things and a great variety. Among them are sachets in apple blossom silk, bon bon baskets, towel rings, thermometers in new designs, tablets, emery cases and sachet cases, celluloid handkerchief cases, paintings, work baskets, toilet set, Marley canvas silks in all designs, d'oylies, aprons and a fine display of all kinds of linens. The sale will continue through to-day.

CENTRAL CLUB COURSE. The next lectures in the Central Club course will be delivered next Monday and Tuesday evenings by the well known lecturer George Makepeace Towle, whose subject the first evening will be "The Russian Empire," and the second evening "Dickens as a Man and an Author." Both lectures will undoubtedly be heard with much profit and interest. The Cincinnati Commercial says: "The lecture was keenly appreciated and applauded throughout. Mr Towle's presentation fell on the ear like the chapter of some grand historical romance. He always comes admirably prepared for his audience, combining rare choice of subject, scholarly treatment and perfect delivery."

VESSEL ITEMS. The schooner Mary F Carson will sail to-day for Palatka, Fla., with a cargo of hay, shooks, etc., loaded by H. C. Quimby & Co.—The Anna A. F Morse will also sail to-day or to-morrow with a cargo of ice from the Penobscot River Ice Company for Baltimore.—The schooner Mary A. Morse as soon as she finishes discharging her cargo of coal for the Maine Central will go to [illegible] ice house and receive a cargo for Richmond, Va.—The barkentine Belmont as soon as she completes the discharge of her cargo of salt for Morse & Co will take a hold full of ice and then go to Portland to take a load of lumber besides for Aspinwall.—The British schooner H. L. St Pierre arrived in this port Tuesday with a cargo of 112,000 feet pine lumber from St John, N. B., for Morse & Co.

CASTINE NORMAL SCHOOL. It is reported that there are seven candidates for the principalship of the Castine Normal school, left vacant by the death of Prof. Woodbury. Among these are J. W Foster and E. E. Philbrook, both of whom have been for several years assistants in the school. The man who is almost sure of an election, however is Prof. Albert F Richardson, principal of Fryeburg Academy. Prof. Richardson was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1863 and has ever since been connected with educational institutions. Through his exertions the academies at Fryeburg and Bridgton have attained their present prosperity. Prof. Richardson is at present a member of the board of trustees of the Normal School. The salary connected with the position is $1,600.

THE COAL TRADE. The coal dealers have received nearly the whole of their season's supply of coal, and but one or two more cargoes are expected here. A large amount has arrived here during the summer and fall and there has been more of a demand for it than ever before. Not only is more used in the city, but the country towns want an increased quantity each year. Brownville is an example of this. Up to this year there have been no coal stoves in use at that place, but this winter several will be running in different houses. The dealers in this city have been kept busy lately supplying orders and the coal teams have been rumbling briskly through the streets. The price remains the same as usual and there is no prospect of any immediate change, although some of the dealers have been getting in large amounts in anticipation of a rise.

GONE OUT WEST. The Aroostook(?) Journal, of Tuesday, has the following pleasant notice of two young men, natives of this city, and who are held in much esteem by their many friends here: Two good Maine boys left Augusta on the night Pullman last evening to seek their fortunes in the far west. They were Mr Arthur S Philbrook and his brother, Mr E. Philbrook, both of whom have been connected with the Maine Central Railroad, the former for nine and the latter for five years. They carry with them a determination to succeed, and have good testimonials from the managers of the Maine Central, and recommendations from many of our best citizens. Mr Arthur S Philbrook is a son-in-law of Hon. S J Chadbourne, Deputy Secretary of State. Mr Philbrook lost his wife some two years ago. The many friends in this city of the Philbrook brothers, will wish them success in their new sought home.

THEY APPRECIATE ITS VALUE. No pledges yet made to the building fund of the Y. M. C. A., show greater self-sacrifice or a more thorough appreciation of the need of the proposed building than three subscriptions received by the committee yesterday. Though not so large in amount as others previously made, like the widow's mite they were greater than all, as they gave what they had, being young men, earning their own living, and are among the most active workers in the association rooms. One of the three pledged the sum of fifty dollars, foregoing the pleasure of the contemplated purchase of a new watch in order to help along the good work. The other two pledged twenty-five dollars each from their scanty resources. Such examples as these should be an added incentive to men of means to respond liberally to this good object. The total amount subscribed to date is $30,897.

COLUMBIA STREET FAIR. The ladies of the Columbia street church are using every means to make their fair, this and to-morrow afternoon and evening, a success. In addition to the great variety of beautiful articles for sale, a supper of chicken salad, scalloped oysters, turkey, chicken, tongue, hot rolls, cake, tea, coffee and ice cream, will be served by attractive waiters from half past five until eight o'clock. There will be an entertainment of great merit Friday evening. Ladies who are good judges pronounce the needle work so fine to be offered for sale by the ladies of the church most beautiful. They have many novelties and at reasonable prices. There will be an art table under the management of a competent artist, and the fashionable game of parlor quoits will be on sale. A housekeeper's table [illegible]

STILL CELEBRATING. A correspondent writes: The country towns are jubilant over the election, and we learn that some of them celebrated it in quite a novel manner. At North Monroe, as soon as the good news reached them, not having uniformed companies or requisites for a torchlight procession, large bonfires were kindled on the neighboring hills and could be seen for miles around. Also before some of the farm houses torches composed of wadding tied to a pole, then saturated with oil and lighted, were firmly planted in the ground and shone brilliantly for some time. Some of the old soldiers were out with their guns making the air melodious with the sound of the bullet. Taken all together it was quite a demonstration and shows which way the wind blows.

ORDER OF TONTI. Guardian Lodge, No 252 of the Order of Tonti was instituted last evening at Royal Arcanum Hall by Deputy Supreme President I. P. Church. The following officers were elected and installed: Frank E. Smith, President; Earl Cushing, Past President; W. H. Brackett, Secretary; J. Henry Smith, Treasurer; Charles Fowler, Vice President; William J. Delano, Chaplain; G. W. Leighton, Marshal; Harry Carlisle, Guard; C. E. Merrifield, Sentinel; Trustees, A. J. Merry, F. O. Beal, A. W. Dwyer. The next meeting will be held next Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, at the same hall, which Guardian Lodge will occupy for the present. Guardian Lodge starts with forty charter members. The object of the Order is to provide weekly indemnity to its members from sickness and accident, in amounts from $5 to $25, and at the end of seven years it returns to all living members from $200 to $1,000, according to the amount of assessments paid by the members. There are some twelve to fifteen gentlemen now waiting to join the lodge as soon as it gets into working order.

DUPED. A young man named Daniel McNeil passed through the city Wednesday night on his way to his home in Cardigan, P. E. I. While on the way he had an experience that he will not soon forget. He left Boston Tuesday morning with quite an amount of earnings in his pocket and reached Portland at noon. He wandered around at the Union station and was accosted by a stout man about forty years of age, who said that his name was Morgan, and that he hailed from Georgetown, six miles from Cardigan. He appeared to be well acquainted with McNeil's folks and mentioned several familiar names. As the two stood talking, however, a third man came up and began concerning with Morgan and it finally appeared that the latter owed the newcomer $10 to pay which he only had $5 in American money and $5 in Canadian. The [illegible] money would not be accepted and turning about to McNeil, Morgan asked a loan of $5 to complete the payment. The young man very readily complied, pulled out the cash and passed it over, Morgan in turn using it to pay the alleged bill. About that time Morgan remembered that he had some baggage to look after and both of the men disappeared, leaving the [illegible] [illegible] to wait for their return. He hunted for them a while and, finally realizing that he had been duped and lost his all, made his [illegible] love, and continued his journey homeward.

A SEVERE LOSS. The following concerning former residents of this city is taken from the Dorchester, Mass., Beacon: Wednesday evening a fire broke out in the ell of the house on Maxwell street owned by Mr Walter F Lansil, the well known artist, and occupied by himself and brothers. An alarm was rung in at once and the engines from Harvard street, [illegible] and River streets responded as soon as possible, but before they reached the house the fire was under pretty good headway and great fears were entertained that the fine dwelling must go, but the united efforts of the efficient firemen soon subdued the flames. The upper part of the ell was occupied by Mr Lansil as a studio in which were his sketches, the work of many years, a large portion of them he having painted during his two years' study in Europe. He also had recently completed a number of paintings which he intended to place on exhibition at an early day, all of which were greatly injured or entirely destroyed. Some of his paintings he has been working on between two and three years. This is a very severe loss to him, as it was to be his first exhibition since his return from abroad, and no doubt would have been a great treat to his many friends and the public. His brother Wilber, the cattle painter, who occupied the same studio, was also a great loser, together with other members of the family who also lost many articles of clothing. Much sympathy is tendered the entire family from all their neighbors and friends. The loss on the studio and pictures is estimated at $6,000, and on the building $1,000.

DIXMONT ITEMS. Our Dixmont correspondent writes: The remains of Miss [illegible] Peabody, only daughter of Washburn Peabody, were forwarded from the Maine Insane Asylum Thursday, and interred in the family lot in the cemetery at Simpson's Corner, Dixmont. The many early associates of Miss Peabody, will remember her as a very social, bright and intelligent girl, whose early life bid fair for one of length and usefulness. About eight years ago it was observed that at times her mind was somewhat unbalanced and the most skillful physicians were called, but could render no aid. At last her relatives decided to send her to the hospital for treatment, but instead of improvement her condition grew more unfavorable, until death put an end to her suffering. The deceased, whose age was about thirty years, leaves a father and three brothers, who have the sympathy of all in this, their sad bereavement.—Columbus Peabody, a wealthy and influential citizen of Dixmont, died very suddenly of pneumonia at his late residence early Tuesday morning, aged about sixty-two years. The deceased was born in Dixmont, where he has ever since resided identifying himself with all its interests. He had served the town upon several occasions as one of its municipal officers, and was one of the Grand Jurors at the time of his death. He was a worthy member of Plymouth Lodge, F. & A. M., a member of North Star Grange, and was also a member of several other societies all of which felt proud to claim him for a member. The deceased leaves an aged mother, one brother, one sister, one son and a widow to mourn his loss. The funeral services which were held at Simpson's Corner, with Masonic honors, were largely attended.—At the last regular meeting of Plymouth Lodge, F. & A. M., No. 2[illegible], the following officers were publicly installed for the ensuing year: W. H. Toothaker, Master; E. S. [illegible], S. W.; W. G. Lord, J. W.; A. H. Brown, S. D.; O. F. [illegible]

The ladies of St John's Episcopal Church will give a coffee party at City Hall, on Wednesday evening of next week including supper and dancing.

It is said that the next Legislature will be asked to modify the present law relating to the taxation of property owned by religious and educational institutions, so as to exempt from taxes only that portion which is directly used for these purposes. Bates College, a large portion of the property of which consists of real estate in Lewiston, would suffer more than any other institution in the State, and her trustees will make a determined effort to prevent the passage of such an act.

Mr Milliken, the venerable clerk at the Secretary of State's office is now busy sending out copies of the Governor's Thanksgiving proclamation to all the city and town clerks throughout the State. The time honored custom, which is still kept up, has been to send to each clerk as many copies as there are church parishes in his town or city and it is expected that he will send a copy to each and that the same will be reverently read from their several pulpits on the Sunday preceding the day appointed for thanksgiving and praise.

AMUSEMENTS.

Under the Gaslight(?)

The engagement of the Annie Berlein company was closed at the Opera House last evening by the presentation of "Under the Gaslight."

Curtis Star Comedy Company

The performance by the Curtis Star Comedy Company in Norombega Hall last evening passed off quite well before a small audience. The play to-night will be "Robinson Crusoe."

Redmund—Barry

This evening the well and very favorably known Redmund Barry Company will appear at the Opera House in "The Cross of Gold" and an excellent performance is expected. The Boston Heritage(?)

It is five years since the Redmund Barry company was organized and their several appearances in this city have always been marked by large audiences and enthusiastic approval. For the first time in their joint career these sterling artists faced a Boston audience with a new play and a hearty welcome was extended them at the Grand Opera House last night. "Hermine, or The Cross of Gold," is the work of Mr Redmund who has made a skillful adaptation of the novel of Ernest Dumas(?) [illegible], the scene of the first act being in France on the German frontier, 18 years ago. The last three acts portray Parisian life at one finds it to-day. [illegible] of the author of the novel which by the way has met with an almost unprecedented sale in the French editions, never having been translated into English, several important alterations have been made in the text, which have enhanced rather than diminished the strangely fascinating interest in the story.

The story is one of thrilling interest, the dialogue for the most part is crisp and bright with a subtle blending of sentiment and pathos and the situations are natural and effective. At times the audience was aroused to a pitch of enthusiasm which found vent in outbursts of [illegible] applause and the success of "Hermine" was as pronounced as it was instantaneous. The welcome extended to Mr. William Redmund and that sterling Boston favorite Mrs. Thomas Barry, was complimentary in a high degree. The honors of the evening were fairly divided among the members of the company which [illegible] an excellent one.

Mora

Next Monday evening the [illegible] Mora will begin a week's engagement at the Opera House. The [illegible] Daily Record says:

Last evening fully 1,000 people came to the Opera House to see Mora and it was one of the most successful openings ever inaugurated in this city. From the [illegible] the body of the house and [illegible] was filled like a sea of faces and in the [illegible] been seen for many a long day. Miss Mora appeared in "Bad Girl" and every feature of the performance was heartily cheered. The comedy [illegible] in her role and her acting and [illegible] superior to that of [illegible] year. Mora's support was [illegible] throughout and the large number at the close of the performance were one in their [illegible] of praise.

OBITUARY

Henry Gale

Mr Henry Gale, one of our old and well known citizens, died at his residence on Congress street early yesterday morning after a protracted illness from heart trouble. Mr Gale was for many years the efficient health officer of this city and has filled other positions of importance with fidelity and satisfaction. He has been confined to his house for some time during which he has had the affectionate and devoted care of his only child—his wife having died some years since—Miss Mary Gale formerly a popular teacher in our public schools but who, during her father's sickness has given up everything to attend to his comforts and wants. She will have the sympathy of her many friends in her bereavement. Mr Gale's funeral will take place Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

Colby University

Our Colby correspondent writes: The Senior exhibition with Junior parts took place at the Baptist church on Wednesday evening, November 21st. The programme was as follows: Music, prayer, music, Latin Version from the Greek of Isocrates, Merton Leland Miller; Palma Non Sine Pulvere, Hiram Everett Farnham; Carthage, James King; Greek Version from the Latin of Cicero, Addie Florence True; music. The Louisiana Creoles, Frank Elmer Nye; French Version from the English of [illegible], Dana Warren Hall; The Mission of the Novel, Mary Lillian Tobey; music, English Version from the French of Carrau, William Lamson Soule; Rienzi, the Tribune, John Lyman Pepper; Alexander of Bulgaria, Edward Francis Stevens; music.

The present term ends in one week. Examinations begin on Saturday and end on Tuesday, November 27th. A recess of ten days intervenes between the end of the fall term and the beginning of the winter term. A large number of students will be out teaching during the winter term.

On Monday evening, November 19th, the members of the Senior class were entertained at the residence of President Pepper by their class-mate, Mr Charles Pepper. The guests were unanimous in their praise of the entertainment and altogether it was the best of the many good times which the members of the Senior class have enjoyed during their college course.
